Books of the month

Reading to your child at bedtime is particularly special, because then he can snuggle up and dream about the story. Your older child will enjoy Oscar and Hoo by Theo, illustrated by Michael Dudok De Wit, about a young boy on a journey to find his parents. Your toddler will love No More Kissing by Emma Chichester Clark. Momo the monkey is tired of everyone kissing... until his new baby brother arrives! Lastly there's Good News! Bad News! by Colin McNaughton, with colourful illustrations. To win a set of these books, turn to Free for you, page 161.

25 book sets WORTH AROUND £19.97 EACH

Three Collins picture books by award-winning authors are up for grabs. No More Kissing! by Emma Chichester Clark is the story of Momo the monkey who sets out to stop kissing... until his baby brother comes along, that is! In Oscar and Hoo, which is written by Theo and beautifully illustrated by Michael Dudok De Wit, young readers will delight in the story of a boy who gets separated from his parents and embarks on a brave journey to find them again. Colin McNaughton's Good News! Bad News! is the tale of how a young boy's walk to the dentist becomes a hazardous adventure. We have 25 sets of all three books, worth around £19.97 each, to give away. Simply call 0905 062 0040.
